POSSIBLE DROWNING AVOIDED

On Tuesday evening, July 21st, Bill Brunet, captain of the cruiser owned by Dr. Alfred E. Thomas, Jr., of Detroit, noticed the outboard motorboat in which Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mousslum, of La Salle, were riding tip over in the Detroit River. Bill went to their aid and threw them life-preservers which they eagerly grasped. Mrs. Mousslum, who is a non-swimmer, had gone down for the second time, and so a possible drowning was avoided.

Bill jumped into a small American boat which had pulled along side the cruiser, and proceeded to assist the Mousslums to safety.

The quick thinking of this young man averted another summer tragedy.

Bill is the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brunet, Riverview Road, La Salle.

COUPLE TO RESIDE IN LA SALLE

In Sandwich United Church, Windsor, on Saturday, July 18th, Miss Phyllis Ann Brunet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brunet of La Salle, became the bride of Mr. John F. Meharg, son of Mrs. Olive Meharg of Windsor.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of lace and a white satin skirt in princess design. She chose pearls to wear on the high neckline. A pearl-studded crown held her fingertip veil of white illusion tulle and she carried a nosegay of red roses.

Miss Judy Turnbull, as maid of honor, wore a gown fashioned with netting over satin and a high neckline. She wore a wide-brimmed garden hat and carried pink carnations.

Mr. Bill Brunet, brother of the bride, was best man, with the groom's cousin, Mr. Don Meharg, as usher.

For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Brunet chose a street-length gown of lavender sheer with embroidered lace trim. Her hat was of lavender clustered flowers and her corsage was of yellow carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length gown of beige crepe with white accessories. She also wore a corsage of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, Riverside Road, La Salle, for 100 guests. The table was adorned with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by the bride's mother.

For travelling, Mrs. Meharg changed into a navy blue dress trimmed with white, and wore white accessories. She wore a corsage of Sweetheart roses. Following their honeymoon at Niagara Falls, and points east, the couple will reside in La Salle.

SANDWICH WEST COUNCIL MEETING

The Sandwich West council held their regular meeting in the townhall on Tuesday, July 21st.

The council has decided to ask the provincial government to keep a promise to tell them of the route the new provincial highway will take through the town, water poured out for three quarters of an hour.

Mr. A. F. Gignac, representing several real estate firms, said he believed it would come between Howard and Dougall Avenues.

Mr. Charles Stroud, deputy reeve, said he had seen a map of the route, and it would cross Howard and merge with Dougall. It is being brought into the city between the tunnel and the bridge, to give an equal break to both.

Mr. Gignac felt that the council should have been consulted on the route, or at least informed before now, so the building inspector would know on which land he could issue building permits.

Reeve Lawrence Brunet said that the government had promised to send an engineer to show the proposed plan, and to date this has not been done.

JOSEPH LANFET, an independent Republican deputy, who has been elected to form a new government to end France's record political crisis.

Canadian Fashion

SLIM AND TRIM. Cover-up swimsuit with a trim look is a trend in swimwear. The patterned Laguna latex fabric, two front pockets and bustline are trimmed with gold braid.

Therefore, the council have asked for the plans and the visit of an engineer.

A steam shovel being operated by an employee of Economy Home Builders of Windsor Ltd., cut an eight-inch water main on Dominion boulevard, south of Norfolk, and apparently, water poured out for three quarters of an hour.

The council wanted to send a bill for the water to the company. When faced with this difficult mathematical problem, Mr. Brunet commented that they should ask the people who really know. So the City of Windsor will be asked to supply the answer.

NEW PUMPER FOR LA SALLE FIRE DEPARTMENT

At the regular meeting of the La Salle Council, held Tuesday, July 27th, the council was faced with the problem of supplying the fire department with a new pumper at a cost of approximately $11,000.

The present 1915 pumper is just worn out and must be replaced as quickly as possible. As there are no funds, the council asked for provincial government help. On the Saturday morning previous to this meeting, Mr. W. A. Orr, deputy minister of municipal affairs, interviewed council members, and suggested that they accept an offer of $8,000 for 33 acres of land near the golf course, put it into a reserve fund, try to borrow the remainder of the money from the bank on current account, and buy the pumper. The money could be repaid to the reserve fund in five years, and could be borrowed from the fund in future for other works.

Mr. Lawrence Pajot has offered to purchase this land to be used as farm land, and Dr. A. Jung has also submitted his offer to purchase this land for the development of a housing project. The council has called a special meeting for Friday night, July 31st, to discuss these two offers, and will advise both parties of their decision.

Quotations for a new pumper were presented to the council. When a price settlement and quick delivery date is reached, the council will purchase the new pumper.

Mr. Henry Seewald was granted permission to build a commercial building on a 30-foot corner lot, up to the side lot line.

Sealed tenders have been received for the installation of an oil-burner for the townhall.

At a previous special meeting, the council approved payment to Mr. Jack Wells, building inspector, for his half-yearly salary of $210. This will be $420 yearly, instead of the previous yearly salary of $150.

IRENE WORTH, the American-born British actress, who has come from the Old Vic to Stratford to play the feminine lead in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Two Shakespearian plays at the Stratford Festival, is seen here chatting with Mrs. Anderson, a member of the Festival's board of directors, soon after her arrival in Stratford to begin rehearsals.

ST. LAURENT IN WAX—Bernard Tussaud, a descendant of the Madame Tussaud of waxworks fame, carries on the bust of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, he is watched by two members of the RCMP, Sgt. Roger Racine of Ottawa, and LAC Robert Paré, Montreal.

Tough Beard? Then try this. I've seen how much trouble that blustery beast can cause. This appears to be what's known as a wasp's nest, even though it's a human's face. Anyway, that's the method used to get rid of the elephant's beard. The photo above shows Ruth, the matriarch of the nine herds of elephants in the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus, getting the overgrowth from her personal attendant.

in Ontario, accompanied by picketing of highways and interference with legal traffic, illustrates damage done to law and order in this Province.

This kin dof thing has been going on in Canada generally, and in Ontario particularly, for several years with little or no effort on part of elected officials to stop it. Result is that strikers, in this case, really believe they have a right to establish themselves as a kind of highway police, setting up roadblocks, flagging down trucks, and chasing those which refuse to stop.

Premier Frost, far too tolerant of illegal picketing in past years, at last seems to have realized it must stop; has told strikers that they must leave highway traffic alone. Response is to accuse him of taking away labor's "democratic rights". Same kind of where striking miners even defy the courts.

Situation is not being helped by intervention of Mr. M. J. Coldwell, who denounced Mr. Frost's action in these words: "I think use of police at any time in a strike is regrettable, and certainly the interference of a government with picketing is a breach of normal labor rights, and a violation of the neutrality which a government should observe."

What Mr. Coldwell seems to be saying is that the laws of Canada, which he himself helped to write, should not be enforced against unionists. This would be most irresponsible if it came from one of parliament's back-benchers. Coming from the leader of a national party, who would be prime minister if that party were elected, it approaches sheer lunacy.

US WHEAT GLUT

is graphically portrayed by Chicago Tribune: "If all our wheat farmers spent the next two years whittling, and let weeds grow over their fields, we would have just as much bread, cakes, cookies, crackers, waffles and noodles as we ever had without importing a bushel. And there would be enough left to seed the 1956 crop."

Canada is in much the same situation. Wheat carry-over for July 31, 1953, is estimated at 423 million bushels, enough to meet all domestic consumption for the next two and a half years, even if this year's harvest was a total failure.

that poverty causes crime, is not born out by experience of US, which reports that with employment and earnings at an all-time peak last year, more major crimes were committed than ever before. Total was 8 percent up from 1951, more than 13 per cent up from 1950. FBI estimates that this year on US city dweller in 50 will be the victim of some major crime.

EFFECT OF WELFARE

on national character was strikingly recorded by NW Times in a recent issue. It reported that when NY civic authorities began taking applications for 180 laborers' jobs, there were 1,500 men—mostly young men—waiting in line. Some had been waiting for four days and nights.

Incidents like this were common during depression. But what causes them in times of prosperity NY paper explains: "The effect of a Civil Service city job, more than the pay, which ranges from $2,700 to $3,100 is believed to have been the chief attraction for most of those on the line."

just introduced in Finnish Parliament lops a col $42 million off that country's tax bill. At same time government of Finland proposes cutting state expenditures by $90 million. Even baby bonus, considered by most welfare state addicts as sacrosanct, is being reduced. All this shows that where there's a will there's a way, when it comes to easing the tax burden.

Interesting aspect of fiscal developments in Finland is that people of that country apparently prefer lower taxes to so-called benefits of the modern welfare state. Same thing is true of people of Canada. Unfortunately, despite election gabble about taxes no one seems willing to say bluntly that most Canadians would willingly forgo much of the costly social security programme, with handouts to all regardless of means, in favor of genuine and adequate welfare benefits for those in need, coupled with lower taxes.

UK Government reports that its national insurance plan will start running a deficit in 1955; by 1977 will be losing $1 billion annually. Assuming UK population has risen to 60 million by that time, this will mean additional taxes of $20 per head per year.

SEEMING LACK OF INTEREST

in forthcoming general election it attributed by R. K. Sandwell, writing in Financial Post, to realization on part of electors that their real rulers are not the cabinet, but rather Ottawa's senior bureaucrats as upon whose advice cabinet ministers rely.

Cynicism of Mr. Sandwell's observation that "General elections tend more and more to be mere sporting vents to decide, not so much in which way the country shall be governed, but merely by which group of men it shall be governed in pretty much the same old group" and that "issues in which senior civil servants do not count for much are becoming less and less frequent," is a damning commentary, tantamount to an admission that responsible government is dead and has been replaced by "the new despotism" of bureaucracy. Tragedy of it is that what Mr. Sandwell says is true.

CURIOUS SITUATION

has come up in public schools at North Bay, Ontario. As result of a 10 per cent pay increase granted to janitors, one of them is now getting $3,800 a year, which is more than any teacher in his school is paid, and as much as one of the city's public school principals.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT and its various Crown corporations, notably CBC, should note a letter made public in Washington by US State Department. Letter was sent by Mr. Scott McLeod, head of department's security system, to Mr. Norman Thomas, US Socialist leader, when latter asked about prospects of young Socialists getting government jobs.

Mr. McLeod flatly answered that he would not knowingly permit a Socialist obtain, or retain, any policy-making position. It was not, he said, a matter of loyalty. That had to be determined by the particular actions of any particular individual. I simply feel that it would be impossible for a Socialist to make a influence policy in a manner which would carry out the intentions of President Eisenhower and the Republican Administration."

To Mr. Thomas' suggestion that the question of civil liberties was involved, Mr. McLeod replied: "I am prepared to resist fiercely any attempt which may be made to expand the concept that it is the privilege of a citizen to work for the government into a concept that he has a right to do so. The government, on the other hand, has no tonly the right but the duty to employ those citizens who are devoted to our republican system of government and who are best qualified to carry out the functions of government."

SOCIALIST THEORY

of social security as a method of realizing "the principle that everything must be free and equal except the progressive taxation out of which it is financed", is given severe and timely going-over in article by Mr. Walter Hagenbuch in Lloyd's Bank Review.

To assume that purpose of the welfare state is to abolish poverty Mr. Hagenbuch points out, is fallacious. Poverty has proved to be something that rises with living standards. The poor today are assumed by politicians and others to be any whose living standards are below the exact average.

Fact is, as Mr. Hagenbuch points out, that poverty is often self-inflicted by willful choice of luxuries, such as TV, against necessities, such as food. Yet politicians, rather than honestly recognizing such "secondary poverty", prefer instead to argue for indefinite extension of state control over personal spending. Social Services, instead of providing legitimate and necessary relief from absolute poverty, tend nowadays to serve rather the Socialist objective of redistribution of income, and creation of a society in which all are made to conform to the average living standard as conceived by the state and established through confiscatory and redistributive taxation.

Now there's another big job ahead. And Louis St. Laurent has proved that he, more than ever, is the Canadian best fitted to do the job.
